

Reading list 2009–10

09 Human geography

The current edition of the subject guide is the 2009 edition. Any queries about this reading list should be directed to externalstudy@lse.ac.uk.

Essential reading

- Cloke, P., P. Crang and M. Goodwin (eds) Introducing Human Geographies. (London: Hodder Arnold, 2005) second edition [ISBN 9780340882764].
- Johnston, R.J., P.J. Taylor and M.J. Watts Geographies of Global Change: Remapping the World in the Late Twentieth Century. (Oxford: Blackwell, 2002) second edition [ISBN 9780631222866].

Further reading

The following three textbooks are also very useful:

- Daniels, P., M. Bradshaw, D. Shaw and J. Sidaway An Introduction to Human Geography: Issues for the 21st Century. (Harlow: Prentice Hall, 2008) [ISBN 9780132056847 (pbk)].
- Haggett, P. Geography: A Global Synthesis. (Harlow: Pearson Education, 2001) [ISBN 9780582320307 (pbk)].
- Knox, P. and S. Marston (eds) Human Geography: Places and Regions in Global Context. (Longman, 2009) fifth edition [ISBN 9780321580023].

Each chapter lists Further reading which is not essential to pass the unit but you are always strongly advised to read widely. A full list is provided in Appendix 2 at the end of the subject guide.

Using the Internet

The Internet is an invaluable source of information especially for statistics and figures. However, as far as possible you should consult reputable sites such as those mentioned below. Always be aware that the quality of the sites may not be very high. Do not use Internet sources as a replacement for books and journals; you should use them only as a complement.

www.aag.org	–	The Association of American Geographers
www.geography.org.uk	–	The Geographical Association
www.rgs.org	–	The Royal Geographical Society

Making use of the Online library

- To help you read extensively, all External students have free access to the University of London Online library where you will find the full text or an abstract for many of the journal articles listed for this unit.
- The Online library is accessed via the Student Portal at <http://my.londonexternal.ac.uk/>
- For most journals, the username and password you need is the same as the one which you have been sent to use for logging in to the Student Portal.
